PLANS DISCLOSED

The Japs' Plan of Campaign Has Been Entirely Altered

THEIR ADVANCE IS UNIMPEDED

Russian General Staff Expect Their Forces to Make a Stand on the Manchurian Bank of the Yalu.

The Advance on Wiju

Seoul, April 4.—Via Shanghai, April 5.—The Japanese first army, consisting of 45,000 men, including the Imperial Guards and the Second and Twelfth divisions, which had been concentrated at Anju, is moving on Wiju by three routes.

The advance guard, composed of 450 infantry and cavalry, repulsed 600 Russians and occupied Ping Ju. Four Japanese were killed and Sgt. Kurovanka and 11 men were wounded.

The Russians had 3 men killed.

British Expelled From Port Arthur

Port Arthur, April 5.—All English engineers and workmen, who have been engaged in making repairs on the battleships damaged by the Japanese, have been put out of Port Arthur in conformity with an order recently issued by General Stoessel expelling all foreigners. It is believed the action of General Stoessel indicates that the attempt to repair some of the damaged Russian warships is hopeless and that nothing can be gained by keeping the British workmen employed.

Fortified Along the Yalu

Seoul, April 6.—Yesterday the few remaining Russians quartered near Wiju withdrew across the Yalu. Thus the west coast of Northern Corea is entered by the Cossack scouting parties. However, the Manchurian bank of the Yalu is fortified and occupied by the Russian forces.

Japs Advance Unimpeded

Tokio, April 6.—Twenty thousand Japanese troops have arrived at Chang Ling, above Wiju. The Cossacks offered scarcely any opposition to the Japanese advance. The Japanese occupied Wiju on Sunday with a large force of cavalry.

The attempt to block Port Arthur is giving the Russians trouble, who are trying to break up the summit under water. Six feet long are difficult of disposal.

Drawing the Japs

Paris, April 6.—The St. Petersburg correspondent of Reuss, Paris, says the Russian general staff is convinced that Russians will await the Japanese attack on the right bank of the Yalu river, which they are busily fortifying near the mouth.

A remarkable bridge has been constructed on the prolongation of Wiju, connecting it with Pin Fuan.

The correspondent says: "The Russians are seeking to draw the Japanese on by sending small groups across the river."

Japs Alter Their Plans

London, April 6.—The Daily Chronicle's Shanghai correspondent states that the whole Japanese plan of campaign had been changed because it was disclosed to the Russians by Japanese officers, who are now awaiting trial.

The treachery was discovered when the Japanese found places they had intended making their first landing thoroughly mined by the Russians. The discovery has caused a great scandal, and efforts are being made to keep the stain off the national honor.

GRAND TRUNK PACIFIC

DEBATE HAS BEGUN

Mr. Borden Deserts His Last Year's Policy for One of Canal Improvement.

(Bulletin Special Dispatch).

Ottawa, April 5.—The Grand Trunk Pacific resolutions were introduced today by the Premier in an hour's speech.

The changed condition of the money market was the cause of the changes in the agreement.

It had become impossible for the company to raise the money. The conditions had to be relaxed or the road could not go on. The essential features of the bargain remained but the risk of the investors had been lessened.

The conditions as to the eastern section remain unchanged.

Mr. Borden criticized and opposed the bargain in all its particulars. He spoke for three hours and closed with an amendment dealing in general terms with transportation, and abandoning his alternative scheme of last year in favor of the immediate improvement of the canals and ports and the ultimate construction of a railway to the Pacific by the government.

Both the premier and Mr. Borden were in good form.

Hon. Mr. Sifton will continue the debate tomorrow.

—Lutwick's library call is on this afternoon and tomorrow.
—An adjourned meeting of the town council will be held in the council chamber tonight.
—E. W. Mayer has opened a general store in the building formerly occupied by the Edmonton Post.
—The Okotoks Times has changed hands and becomes the property of Mr. Chas. Clark.
—Education figures as the scene of a story by W. A. Fraser in the current number of the Canadian magazine.

—The oration in the Chimes of Normandy begins tonight at 8:10 sharp, owing to the length of the opera.
—The pier of the C. N. R. bridge across the South Saskatchewan near Saskatoon, will be completed by the middle of the present month.

—The cornice work on the new Alberta hotel building is being put on and the roofing on the dome nearly completed. The building will probably be occupied some time during May.

—The inquest on the remains of John and William Norris, who were found dead in their shack near Regina, was held. The former died of pneumonia, the latter of pneumonia.

—A number of letters which have not been called for, addressed to advertisers in the Bulletin, are at this office. Among these are a number of letters addressed to B. J. E. G., Box 48, Box 46, General Merchant, 5 Seymour, Box 16, Box 35, Box 23, and Box 58.

—Probs.—A cold wave swept over Manitoba yesterday from the north. The temperature throughout the Territories was high. Medicine Hat recorded 54 and Edmonton 50. The present outlook is unsettled, but tending to milder weather. Showers of sleet or rain are probable in most districts.

—Calgary Herald:—Immigrants are beginning to come in big batches. There was a section of No. 1 yesterday morning carrying a large number of new settlers for Alberta. In order to send these new settlers to where they intend to make their homes, the C. P. R. had to run a special north and south. About seventy-five or eighty of the new comers went north and about forty took the south train.

—Following are the newcomers who have registered at the Immigration hall during the past few days: Alexander Smith, James Haddon, James Huston, W. J. Harr, James Robertson, Sidney Robertson, Robert Foulis, Wm. Anderson, John McMillan, J. V. Kennedy, John Cameron, Scotland, N. A. Ruppel, Owen Jones, wife and two children, William Hill, Arthur Lard, England; Thos. Tyarr, R. Hamilton, Ireland; Carry T. McGowan, Etta Smalley, Canada; G. McElroy, Julia Mahaffey, Ohio; J. H. Nigh and daughter, J. N. Hoeman, wife and three children, W. N. Osborn, Indian Territory; W. R. Hume, Thos. Lang, wife and two boys, Edward Butler, Kansas; Peter Loveless, I. E. Hume, Minn.; M. A. Mason, Iowa; A. C. Mendonhill, Oregon.

—The Saskatchewan Herald and the Saskatoon Phoenix in their last issues each devote copious quantities of space to discussing the deep and peculiar villainy of the Bulletin for pointing out the superiority of the Edmonton route to the Barr colony.

The perils of navigating the waters of the Saskatchewan in "The rough barge, without decks, which are the only available means of transport," and which the reader is informed are not "suitable for the conveyance of herb and wine and such articles," are vividly pictured. Concerning the trails from Edmonton to the colony the Phoenix remarks that it is an absolute impossibility for a driver who is not thoroughly familiar with the route to go through at all, and altogether impossible for a stranger to pass over it with an empty wagon until well into July.

The Herald reserves the motive of its remarks to the conclusion of its editorial paragraph, when it warns the reader to "Beware of the advice of interested parties."

—For some time the government authorities have had suspicion that numbers of prairie chickens, partidge grouse and other game birds, have been sent out of the Territories without the permission of the Commissioner of Agriculture. This is contrary to the provisions of the Game Ordinance and a maximum penalty of $50 and costs is prescribed. Tuesday afternoon Mr. Ludger Lemire of Morinville, was tried before Major Becher, magistrate, on a charge of shipping a number of prairie chickens to Montreal. At first he pleaded not guilty, but after the case had been proceeded with he changed his mind and pleaded guilty, claiming however, that he was ignorant of the law on the matter. In consideration of the circumstances only half of the maximum fine was imposed. The government, however, wish it to be known that the provisions against exporting game birds out of the Territories will be rigorously enforced in future, the object being not to impose the fines, but to stop the traffic, which is reported to be heavy every winter.

CARPENTERS ORGANIZE

Last night a number of the officers and members of Edmonton Local Union No. 1325 of Carpenters and Joiners of America, drove across to Strathcona to institute the carpenters of that town.

The meeting was held in the Orange hall. Brother W. A. Deyl, president of local 1325 and general organizer for the Territories, took the chair and obligated a goodly number of Strathcona's carpenters, after which the following officers were installed:

President, R. B. Bissett.

Vice president, A. McFee.

Recording secretary, L. G. Bissett.

Financial secretary, W. L. Bates.

Treasurer, Mr. Jones.

Conductor, H. Skelton.

Warden, D. McFee.

After the order of business had been gone through the meeting was closed and all went to the Dominion hotel, where Mr. R. McKernan had waiting a table laden with good things, to which all paid great interest.

Mr. R. Bissett presided and after all had satisfied the inner man some time was spent in singing, story telling, and speech making.

After a vote of thanks had been tendered the Strathcona carpenters for their warm reception, the national anthem was sung and the members dispersed, feeling that the financial gain is not the only good thing in labor unions.

The following members from Edmonton were there: Pres. W. A. Deyl, A. J. Thompson, W. B. Willis, W. Tracey, A. C. Giles, E. T. Baby, G. Douglas, G. Spears, L. McFee, C. W. Libbey, A. B. Jones.
